Outstanding Color MFP for Small Workgroups

The Lexmark CX421adn, chosen by Buyers Lab analysts as the winner of the Winter 2019 Pick award for Outstanding Color MFP for Small Workgroups, offers...

- Strong value, with impressive overall performance and capabilities for a low total cost of ownership
- Variety of mobile options, including Apple AirPrint, Google Cloud Print, optional NFC/Wireless Direct, and an array of mobile apps
- Minimal downtime, thanks to an intuitive design, simple routine maintenance, perfect reliability, and fast speeds
- Robust security features and, via MarkVision Enterprise, excellent fleet management

“Despite its compact design and low running costs, the Lexmark CX421adn has a lot to offer,” said Marlene Orr, Keypoint Intelligence’s Director of Printer & MFP Analysis. “The intuitive menu system makes walk-up printing and scanning simple: Users can easily select print files from a USB drive, or scan to a wide range of formats, including editable files. And the IT staff is sure to appreciate the robust security, including firmware integrity checking and intrusion detection, as well as Markvision Enterprise to give them a high level of control over a fleet of mixed hardware.”

“The Lexmark CX421adn offers excellent reliability and impressive user-friendliness, making it ideal for small workgroups,” said Tony Maceri, Keypoint Intelligence’s Senior Test Technician. “The well-designed print driver lets you save settings for commonly run jobs for single-click output, and flexible mobile printing options means users can print from virtually anywhere. Plus, the professional-looking output, marked by vibrant colors, clean text, and smooth lines, lets users print short-run marketing materials like flyers and brochures themselves to save time and money.”
